

Fiction

stories that are made up from the author's imagination

© 2013 Sandy Liptak

Fiction or Non-Fiction?

Anchor Charts, Sorting Activity

By: Sandy Liptak

Non-Fiction

stories that are filled with facts and information about real people, places, things, and events

© 2013 Sandy Liptak

Fiction

stories that are made up from the author's imagination

I can draw or write an example of a Fiction Story.

Fiction

stories that are made up from the author's imagination

I can draw or write an example of a Fiction Story.

Fiction

stories that are made up from the author's imagination

I can draw or write an example of a Fiction Story.

2 Definition Posters & 2 Bookmarks

Non-Fiction

stories that are filled with facts and information about real people, places, things, and events.

I can draw or write an example of a Non-Fiction Story.

Non-Fiction

stories that are filled with facts and information about real people, places, things, and events.

I can draw or write an example of a Non-Fiction Story.

Non-Fiction

stories that are filled with facts and information about real people, places, things, and events.

I can draw or write an example of a Non-Fiction Story.

5 sets of matching cards (not all cards are shown)

Fiction

a story about Tiger, the cat, who is learning to read

Non-Fiction

a story about the life of Martin Luther King Jr.

Fiction

a story about a boy who goes to the beach for the first time

Non-Fiction

a story about the history of the Capitol

Fiction

a story about how I won the 100th Day of School contest

Non-Fiction

a story about why the Lincoln Memorial was built

Fiction

a story about the time I caught a butterfly and then let it go

Non-Fiction

a story giving me information about ducks